

Are you seeking an entrepreneurial environment where you can take your consulting career to the next level, while helping solve interesting, complex challenges for clients?

Everest Group is always in search of top talent to drive our mission to help senior executives at leading companies capture value from the next generation of global services.

Client projects include those focused on cloud, mobility, outsourcing, and shared services, for IT, Finance & Accounting, HR, Procurement and Contact Centers.

We look for motivated individuals who possess excellent problem solving and leadership skills and who have demonstrated success in a client service environment.

We are currently looking for Consultants in our Dallas, New York, and Toronto offices. As a core member of the client project delivery team, a Consultant identifies key business issues and understands the implications of these issues on the project as a whole.

Join a team of innovative problem solvers, who have been helping lead and shape the global services industry for 20+ years.
